

Wealdstone 5 Blues 0

The pain continued for Blues as they went down 5-0 at Wealdstone, on Easter Monday.

It took only 45 seconds for the hosts to take the lead, and their final goal was the 100th Blues have conceded in Vanarama South this season.

With two games remaining it's already too late to prevent the worst season in Blues' history since joining the Isthmian League in 1971,

With suspensions starting to kick in there were several changes to the team which lost 2-0 against Gosport on Good Friday, with Richard Walton returning in goal and fellow keepers Harry Voss and Ashley Harris named on the bench. Academy prospect Alex Rogers became the 69th player to pull on a Stortford shirt in a competitive game this season.

Blues couldn't have made a worst start as Edward Oshodi fired past Walton, and by the fifth minute it was 2-0 as Fitchett latched on to Wright's mis-hit shot and tucked the ball home from eight yards.

It wasn't until the 55th minute that the hosts wrapped up the win as Wright side-footed a shot from 20 yards and it crept in at the far post.

Sam Ford went close to scoring Blues' first league goal since early March but it was Wealdstone who improved their goal difference as Green hit a spectacular effort on 88 minutes before Oshodi crossed for an unmarked Elliott Benyon to head home from five yards.

Blues: Walton, Rodgers, Rogers, Everitt, Bray, Adebowale, Taiwo, Hickford (Ronto), Ford, Kouassi, Richefond. Unused subs: Ronto, Voss, Callander, Kabeya, Harris

Dartford 5 Blues 0

Blues' final Vanarama South away game of the season ended in another heavy defeat as they went down 4-0 at promotion-chasing Dartford.

It was a better performance than the 5-0 hammering at Wealdstone on Easter Monday, but Kevin Watson's side again went home empty handed with a ninth straight league defeat.

The visitors had the first chance when Evans Kouassi looked to be through on goal, but he over-hit the pass to Aaron Greene on the left.

The Kent side took the lead in the 13th minute when Andy Pugh converted from close tanger after the Blues failed to clear their lines.

It took 12 minutes for the home side to double the lead when Elliott Bradbrook got a run on his marker and converted the corner with his head.

Sam Ford and Solomon Taiwo both had chances to end Blues' goal drought but after Taiwo had seen a free-kick go wide in 57th minute, Dartford killed the game off on the hour mark as Ofori-Acheampong rose higher than any defender to head into the top corner from a cross.

Greene fired over shortly afterwards – by the end of the game Blues had gone 854 minutes without a league goal – but Dartford wrapped things up in the 85th minute when Harry Voss appeared to be fouled and substitute Alfie Pavey was left free to head home.

Blues: Voss, Richefond, Williams, Taiwo, Adebowale, Rodgers, Ronto (Kabeya), Everitt, Ford, Kouassi, Greene. Unused subs: Fagan, Rogers, Harris.
